

REPORT

I presented a paper in the International Conference on Emerging trends in Engineering and Applied Sciences (ICETEAS '13), held on 27-28 December, at RCEW, Jaipur. The TEQIP-II cell sponsored my visit and registration in the conference. The paper has been included in the Proceedings brought out on the occasion as well as published in International Journal of Advanced Engineering & Computing Technologies, ISSN 2249-4928. A total of 112 papers were submitted in the conference. It provided a forum for networking and interaction with academicians from different places in India and abroad. The conference was a good learning experience.
